

Navy and Marine Corps Notes.

Paymaster and Mrs. Lawrence Heap are now established in their new home in Philadelphia, after a three-week visit to Atlantic City. Mrs. Heap's daughter, Mrs. Ward, has an attractive establishment quite near them. Next week Mrs. Heap will return to Washington for a visit to her mother, Mrs. George Beale.

Col. Charles McCauley, United States Marine Corps, is slowly convalescing from his recent severe illness and as soon as he is sufficiently recovered will leave with Mrs. McCauley for one of the seasonal resorts.

Chaplain Brown, U. S. N., has the distinction of outranking every other chaplain in the navy, as he is a major, a title which is held by no other naval officer. He is at present in Washington.

Mrs. Brainerd, wife of the surgeon general of the navy, has been one of the most frequently feted women in society this season. It was for the purpose of returning some of this flood of entertaining in her honor that she gave a week since the large luncheon, followed by the largest card party, at Rauschers.

Mrs. Hall, wife of Capt. Hall of the Marine Corps, will have this week as her guests at the Col. Col. and Mrs. Frederick E. Boothby of Portland, Me., who have been spending some time at Magnolia Springs, Fla.

Col. Boothby comes to Washington at times as the Maine delegate to the chamber of commerce meeting Tuesday. Before going south, Col. and Mrs. Boothby visited Mr. and Mrs. J. E. T. Gadsby at their home on Georgetown Heights, and at that time were the guests of honor at a dinner at the Army and Navy Club.

Lieut. Commander William Winton Galbraith, U. S. N., and wife have gone to Richmond after having spent the winter in this city at the Shoreham. Mrs. Galbraith, one of the notably attractive young matrons in navy circles, is the daughter of Mr. J. E. T. Gadsby, of Albany, who earlier in the season also spent some time in Washington.

Lieut. Commander and Mrs. James Harvey Tomb are at the navy yard, where they have taken their part in the winter's entertaining. Early in the season Mrs. Tomb expects to leave with her small twin daughters for their bungalow at Jamestown.

Capt. Philip Walker of the coast survey, accompanied by his wife, has been spending the season at the Shoreham, on K street, since his return from the Philippines.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hunt Appleton of Bangor, Me., are living this season at the Shoreham. Appleton is one of the most earnest workers for the Belgian refugees, and throughout the winter has been the chief attendant at the Red Cross headquarters.

Miss Harriet Kelm, whose sister is the wife of Maj. Kutz, U. S. A., the District Commissioner, will join her sister later in the spring. At the present time Miss Kelm is in California, after a visit to the Philippines, and will return here by way of Panama.

Capt. Joseph L. Jayne, U. S. N., recently commanding U. S. S. New Jersey, has joined his wife in Washington, before their departure for Norfolk, where he has been ordered.

Theta Kappa Phi Charity Tea Dance.

The patronesses for the charity tea dance to be given by the Theta Kappa Phi Society at the Wyoming, Saturday, March 20, from 4 to 7, will include Mrs. J. E. Briggs, Mrs. Ella S. Knight, Mrs. W. H. For the Children.

WHITE molding clay is especially adapted for play, and children can use it for several days in their little kitchens. To make it, mix two cups of salt with enough water to dissolve it, the same as for stiff. Dissolve a half cup of cornstarch in a cup of water. Boil the salt, and while it is still boiling add the cornstarch and cook until it forms a very thick, heavy paste. Pour it out on a wet towel. It can be formed into a lump of pure white dough, which is excellent for molding articles, or it may be used in making pins, cakes, etc. This dough will sour in warm weather, but it can be kept moist for several days in winter if wrapped in a damp towel. It is one of the very cheapest play things a child can have, and it is easily made.

Wraps, suits and blouses are trimmed with frogs, cordeliers and other military arrangements.

Fort Myer Notes.

Lieut. Thurber and his mother entertained at dinner Sunday for a few members of the post. Maj. Deuell has been away on an inspection trip for several weeks. Capt. McMillan has been quite sick at Walter Reed Hospital, but is back again for duty. Maj. McCloskey's family has arrived and is taking possession of their quarters on the main line. The regular Tuesday evening concert was held in the administration building. Mr. Smith, in charge of the Y. M. C. A., is showing some wonderful moving pictures in the gymnasium three times a week.

The chaplain, Father O'Keefe, is arranging for a big entertainment St. Patrick's day, when all the talent is to be Irish and only Irish music is to be sung.

Every one was glad to see Dr. Helman, from Walter Reed Hospital, who came to look after the health of the Garrison detachment. He is well and interesting lecture at the gymnasium Wednesday night on the mobilization of the troops. Mr. Foxworth is well qualified to do it, as he was in France at the French Riding School, having been sent by this government with the war broke out. He used views taken by himself to illustrate his lecture.

Mrs. Foerster entertained the bridge lovers Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, playing until 5, when delicious refreshments were served. Quite a number came in to partake of them.

The dance given by the Garrison detachment was largely attended and the hall was packed. The attendance at the tea dance that followed was also very large. Many had informal luncheons before the drill, and coming afterward to the tea. Mrs. Thurber was hostess, Mrs. McCloskey, wife of Maj. McCloskey, 3d Field Artillery, receiving with her, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Mencher served the refreshments. A beautiful tea table, the decorations of which were jonquills and narcissus in large silver vases and small glass sticks capped with green silk shades. Sandwiches, cakes and sweets were dispensed by the girls of the Garrison detachment. The hall was beautifully decorated with dozens of large and small flags.

The Misses Wilder, the three attractive daughters of Col. Wilder of the 5th Cavalry, are on a visit here to their father.

Novelty Handkerchiefs.

THE newest thing in handkerchiefs is made of chiffon with a white colored cord decorating some in colors have narrow outlinings and rolled hems in black. Then there are crepe de chine handkerchiefs in dainty colors with a self or contrasting border. Such handkerchiefs are worn with party dresses.

The rage for color has also reached the domain of handkerchiefs in linen and cotton. They are seen in large quantities. Some have colored centers with white polka dots and others have colored dots on the white centers, with a very narrow border in color. Handkerchiefs of Madeira embroidery are dainty. They are embroidered in colors as well as white. Some have tiny scallops edged in blue, pink, lavender or green. Others have a sprig of flowers embroidered in one corner, as well as the scalloped edge. The shops are showing a handkerchief with the center either made of a figured material, as sheer as goods can be, or barred, or quite plain, with a tiny one-eighth-inch hem at the neck. Some have a lace border one-eighth of an inch wide. It will wash well, as most hand-made laces do.

Mending Tip.

WHEN lace insertion begins to break threads here and there on any garment, put footing of the same width underneath it. This gives something to fasten the pattern to, but does not alter the open effect. It is good to place under lace collar which must be pinned. It comes in all insertion widths and is inexpensive.

Separate skirts are most becoming with their full skirts set in closefitting yokes.

Atlantic City.

Special Correspondence of The Star.

ATLANTIC CITY, March 13.—Trunks and bags piled high in extra baggage cars added to every incoming train tell of the coming of Easter finery and promise an exhibit of styles on the Boardwalk tomorrow. Maids and maîtres coming in tonight are demanding ample closet room for their frocks and hats, and those who know the Boardwalk declare that the first real pre-Easter parade of the season, so far as styles are concerned, will take place at noon tomorrow.

Federal officials have added a new sea spectacle to the attractions of the resort in sending the new dredge Abscon here to clear the inlet channel. The big craft has started the pumping of sand from the waterway, and yachtsmen are preparing to celebrate the opening of the port with a sea parade, in which war craft will be invited to take part.

Many well known Washington folk have appeared on the Boardwalk during the week. Representative William N. Stafford of Milwaukee came here after the session. William Potter, former minister to Italy, John Hassett Moore, and former Gov. William A. Stone of Pennsylvania were on the esplanade during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor E. Adler of Washington have taken a cottage for the season.

Mrs. Frederick J. Wade, Jr., of Washington was on the Boardwalk this week with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rouse and Miss Roberta Hemstone House of Baltimore. Miss Sophia H. Belton was out in a rolling chair with her mother, Belmont.

Mrs. T. Ford Thompson of Washington has Miss Katherine B. Heard as her guest. Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hamill are occupying their cottage in Chelsea for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ladd are recent additions to the Washington colony at the Marlborough-Blenheim. Mrs. Ladd is in the city at the Chalmers Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lombard and their family are at the Chelsea for the season.

month. J. David Thompson, Miss Simpson and Miss Phyllis A. Dickey have joined the Washington colony at the John hotel.

Miss M. L. Barton of Washington is spending some time at the Morton. John J. Huff of Washington registered at the Abscon this week.

Mrs. Albert S. Greene of Washington has arrived at the Wiltshire, where she will remain throughout the spring season.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Caldwell are among the new arrivals from Washington to the Strand.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Andrews and Miss Kathleen Andrews make up a family party of Washington visitors at the Penhurst.

Robert W. Cook was among the Washington visitors who strolled the Boardwalk this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dulin are among the Washington visitors registered at the Dennis this week.

There is a pretty and effective ornament for the evening costume in the form of a band with small mercury wings attached above the ears.
